Located in the district of Vacqueyras in southeastern France, the winery of La Grand Comtadine was built in 1929 and had two adjacent hectares of vineyards. The origin of the vineyards on and surrounding the property predate the devastating 1860's blight of Phylloxera. The upkeep of the vineyards was further affected by economic hardship, the First World War and its aftermath.

Denis Cheron, originally from Burgundy's Côtes du Nuits, fell in love with the region and potential of Vacqueyras and bought La Grand Comtadine in the 1960's. Using his knowledge of Burgundian winemaking practices, Denis improved the conditions of the vineyards. His efforts were rewarded with healthy, quality grapes that had developed finesse and showed the terroir in the glass.

Yves, Denis's son was also born in Burgundy. His formative experience with a single-varietal as delicate as Pinot Noir is manifested in the refined elegance he creates in an appellation often perceived as rustic. Yves took the vineyard care to the next level and introduced vineyard selection, lower yields, hand-harvesting and sorting. Varietals are vinified separately and in smaller quantities. He also invested in state-of-the-art equipment. Today, Yves's wines are rich, concentrated expressions of fruit and the terroir of the Vacqueyras.

Vacqueyras is an appellation in the Southern Rhône Valley, producing magnificent red wines in the style of its closest neighbors Châteauneuf-du-Pape and Gigondas. Acquiring the status of "Appellation" as recently as 1990, Vacqueyras is still one of the best-kept secrets of the Rhône. As Robert Parker states: "One AOC that is exceptional is Vacqueyras. This is an up and coming star in the Southern Rhône."
